June 2016

Dear Friends and Neighbours

“My whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service” said Princess Elizabeth on her 21st birthday.

I am not sure that she ever imagined that as Queen she would reign for over 60 years. When she became Queen in 1952 she promised to serve her people, which she has done faithfully and with great wisdom ever since. But every year, in her Christmas message, she reveals that she also serves someone else – Jesus Christ. Her self-confessed faith in Jesus Christ has been something that has sustained and guided her throughout her life.

In her Christmas broadcast of 2012, the Queen reminded the nation that God sent his only Son “not to be served but to serve.”

Whether you are a royalist or not, it is not difficult to admire the dedication that the Queen has shown over the years to the people of this country. She works tirelessly, still attending more than 300 public engagements every year and is patron of over 600 charities and organisations.

We see in our communities those who also work tirelessly for us all. Those who teach in our schools, volunteer in our village shops, run numerous clubs and societies, maintain our community spaces, and in a multitude of other ways, ensure the smooth running of our communities. We are all hugely appreciative of those who generously give of their time and energies to ensure this.

In all this generous servant-hearted giving, we recognise the image of God within each one. Christ willingly laid down his life for us, so that through faith in Him, we are also offered friendship with God and the joy of being loved unconditionally. Jesus Christ came to serve us and through the work of the Holy Spirit in our lives, we are offered strength and sustenance to travel through the ups and downs of life - peace and security when all around us seems uncertain and confused, comfort and confidence when we face our own or others’ mortality.

As we celebrate the Queen’s 90th Birthday, let us be inspired by both her lifelong service to her people and her lifelong service to her King, Jesus Christ. Why not follow her example and take up Christ’s offer of friendship with Him.

The Lakes by yoo

Many of you attended the Public Consultation Event back in January to find out what work has been carried out over the last 10 years and their vision for the future.

The feedback from the event was very positive, particularly in respect of new footpaths and changes to existing ones proposed.

A planning application setting out these proposals has been submitted to Cotswold District Council and is expected to be out for consultation shortly.

Further information will be available to view shortly on the Parish Council website, and we encourage you to have your say in helping to deliver the improvements for the local community.

Local Audit and Accountability Act 2014 (c. 2)

26 Inspection of documents etc

- (1) At each audit of accounts under this Act, other than an audit of accounts of a health service body, any persons interested may—
- inspect the accounting records for the financial year to which the audit relates and all books, deeds, contracts, bills, vouchers, receipts and other documents relating to those records, and
 - make copies of all or any part of those records or documents.
- (2) At the request of a local government elector for any area to which the accounts relate, the local auditor must give the elector, or any representative of the elector, an opportunity to question the auditor about the accounting records.
- (3) The local auditor's reasonable costs of complying with subsection (2) are recoverable from the relevant authority to which the accounts relate.
- (4) This section does not entitle a person—
- to inspect or copy any part of any record or document containing information which is protected on the grounds of commercial confidentiality, or
 - to require any such information to be disclosed in answer to any question.
- (5) Information is protected on the grounds of commercial confidentiality if—
- its disclosure would prejudice commercial confidentiality, and
 - there is no overriding public interest in favour of its disclosure.
- (6) This section does not entitle a person—
- to inspect or copy any part of any record or document containing personal information, or
 - to require any personal information to be disclosed in answer to any question.
- (7) Information is personal information if it identifies a particular individual or enables a particular individual to be identified (but see subsection (8)).
- (8) Information is not personal information merely because it relates to a business carried on by an individual as a sole trader.
- (9) Information is personal information if it is information about an officer of the relevant authority which relates specifically to a particular individual and is available to the authority because—
- the individual holds or has held an office or employment with that authority, or
 - payments or other benefits in respect of an office or employment under any other person are or have been made or provided to that individual by that authority.
- (10) For the purposes of subsection (9)—
- "the relevant authority" means the relevant authority whose accounts are being audited, and
 - payments made or benefits provided to an individual in respect of an office or employment include any payment made or benefit provided in respect of the individual ceasing to hold the office or employment.

27 Right to make objections at audit

- (1) This section applies if, at an audit of accounts under this Act other than an audit of accounts of a health service body, a local government elector for an area to which the accounts relate makes an objection to the local auditor which meets the requirements in subsection (2) and which—
- concerns a matter in respect of which the auditor could make a public interest report, or
 - concerns a matter in respect of which the auditor could apply for a declaration under section 28.
- (2) The requirements are that—
- the objection is made in writing, and
 - a copy of the objection is sent to the relevant authority whose accounts are being audited.
- (3) The local auditor must decide—
- whether to consider the objection, and
 - if the auditor does so, whether to take action within paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1) in response.
- (4) The local auditor may decide not to consider the objection if, in particular, the auditor thinks that—
- the objection is frivolous or vexatious,
 - the cost of the auditor considering the objection would be disproportionate to the sums to which the objection relates, or
 - the objection repeats an objection already considered—
 - under this section by a local auditor of the authority's accounts, or
 - under section 16 of the Audit Commission Act 1998 by an auditor appointed under that Act in relation to those accounts.
- (5) Subsection (4)(b) does not entitle the local auditor to refuse to consider an objection which the auditor thinks might disclose serious concerns about how the relevant authority is managed or led.
- (6) If the local auditor decides not to take action within paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1), the auditor may recommend that the relevant authority should instead take action in response to the objection.
- (7) The local auditor's reasonable costs of exercising functions under this section are recoverable from the relevant authority.

Great news. As a result of our efforts to “Keep Kempford Tidy” and the litter pick on Easter Saturday and Anna Solasinska-Barnett’s application we have been shortlisted for the £1,000 prize money under the “Clean it for the Queen” scheme. The judges are scheduled to visit on 31st May so can I ask you all to make an extra effort to pick up any wayward pieces of litter.

I do have to report one great sadness though. Over the past couple of months some mindless dog owners have allowed their dogs to foul the footpath between the High Street and Top Road – and this despite the fact that there is a poo bin at one end of the path. This has got so bad that our excellent grasscutters, Terry and John Chesterman, have quite understandably refused to cut the grass along that path. I fear the only way we will be able to stop this fouling is for all responsible people to watch out for the miscreants and to report them to the Cotswold District Council Environmental Warden.

Airfield Activity at RAF Fairford June & July 2016

RAF Fairford is home to the USAF 420th Air Base Squadron, which is part of the 501st Combat Support Wing at RAF Alconbury in Cambridgeshire. The base is maintained in a ready, "warm status" by a civilian workforce who are responsible for all daily tasks and contingency preparations.

The main mission at RAF Fairford is to be ready to receive a deployment of aircraft and personnel with 48 hours' notice, both for real-world scenarios and for training.

US Strategic Command units regularly conduct training with and in support of the Geographic Combatant Commands. US Strategic Command, through its global strike assets, helps maintain global stability and security while enabling its personnel to become familiar with operating in different regions. In June, there will be a training exercise at RAF Fairford, when you will notice a greater USAF presence, with a temporary increase in US personnel, additional preparatory activities at the airfield, and more frequent flight operations.

To ensure operational security, we are unable to discuss any details of this exercise, but should be able to provide more detailed information on arrival dates and specific aircraft involved with the mission at a later date.

Flight operations will adhere to the posted quiet hours whenever possible (Monday to Thursday 23:00 each evening to 06:00 the following morning, and weekends from 18:00 Friday evening until 06:00 Monday morning). However there may be some occasions where operational necessity may require them to operate outside of these published hours.

Following the exercise, RAF Fairford will continue to be busy with the arrival of the F-35 Lightning aircraft, making its UK debut at the Royal International Air Tattoo in July. Visitors to the Air Tattoo will be the first outside the United States to see the stealthy, supersonic aircraft's state-of-the-art capabilities when it displays on all three days of the airshow. The F-35 will be conducting operations from RAF Fairford for around four weeks, supporting both RIAT and the Farnborough Air Show.

If you have any queries about activities at RAF Fairford, please contact the Community Relations Adviser, Jenny Collyer, on 01285 714822 / 07764 166079 or e-mail jennifer.collyer.2.gb@us.af.mil

A Message to the Residents of Kempford, Whelford, Dunfield and Dudgrove from the organisers of the Royal International Air Tattoo

Dear Resident

As you are probably aware, this summer's Royal International Air Tattoo will take place at RAF Fairford from July 8-10. We wish to bring to your attention a change to our traffic management system over the weekend of RIAT that will affect you.

From 6am on both Saturday July 9 and Sunday, July 10, a one-way system will operate on the entire length of Whelford Road, from the Shell Garage on the A417 to 'Allotment Corner' in Kempford (dotted line on map). In previous years, this one-way system ran from the Shell Garage to Pope's Court in Whelford at which point it reverted to two-way.

The reason for this change is to speed up the movement of cars from the highway into – and out of – our eastern 'Red' car parks situated adjacent to Whelford Road. Not only will this help improve traffic flows during these busy phases but it should enable us to lift the one-way order earlier than in previous years allowing you unrestricted movement in the middle of the day before the one-way traffic flow is reversed during the outbound phase.

In the morning, once RIAT Traffic Control is satisfied that the vast majority of RIAT-bound vehicles have parked, the restriction will be lifted to allow two-way traffic on the entire length of Whelford Road. During the departure phase, the one-way system that was in operation in the morning will be reversed. Timings for this will be determined by RIAT Traffic Control based on the prevailing traffic flows.

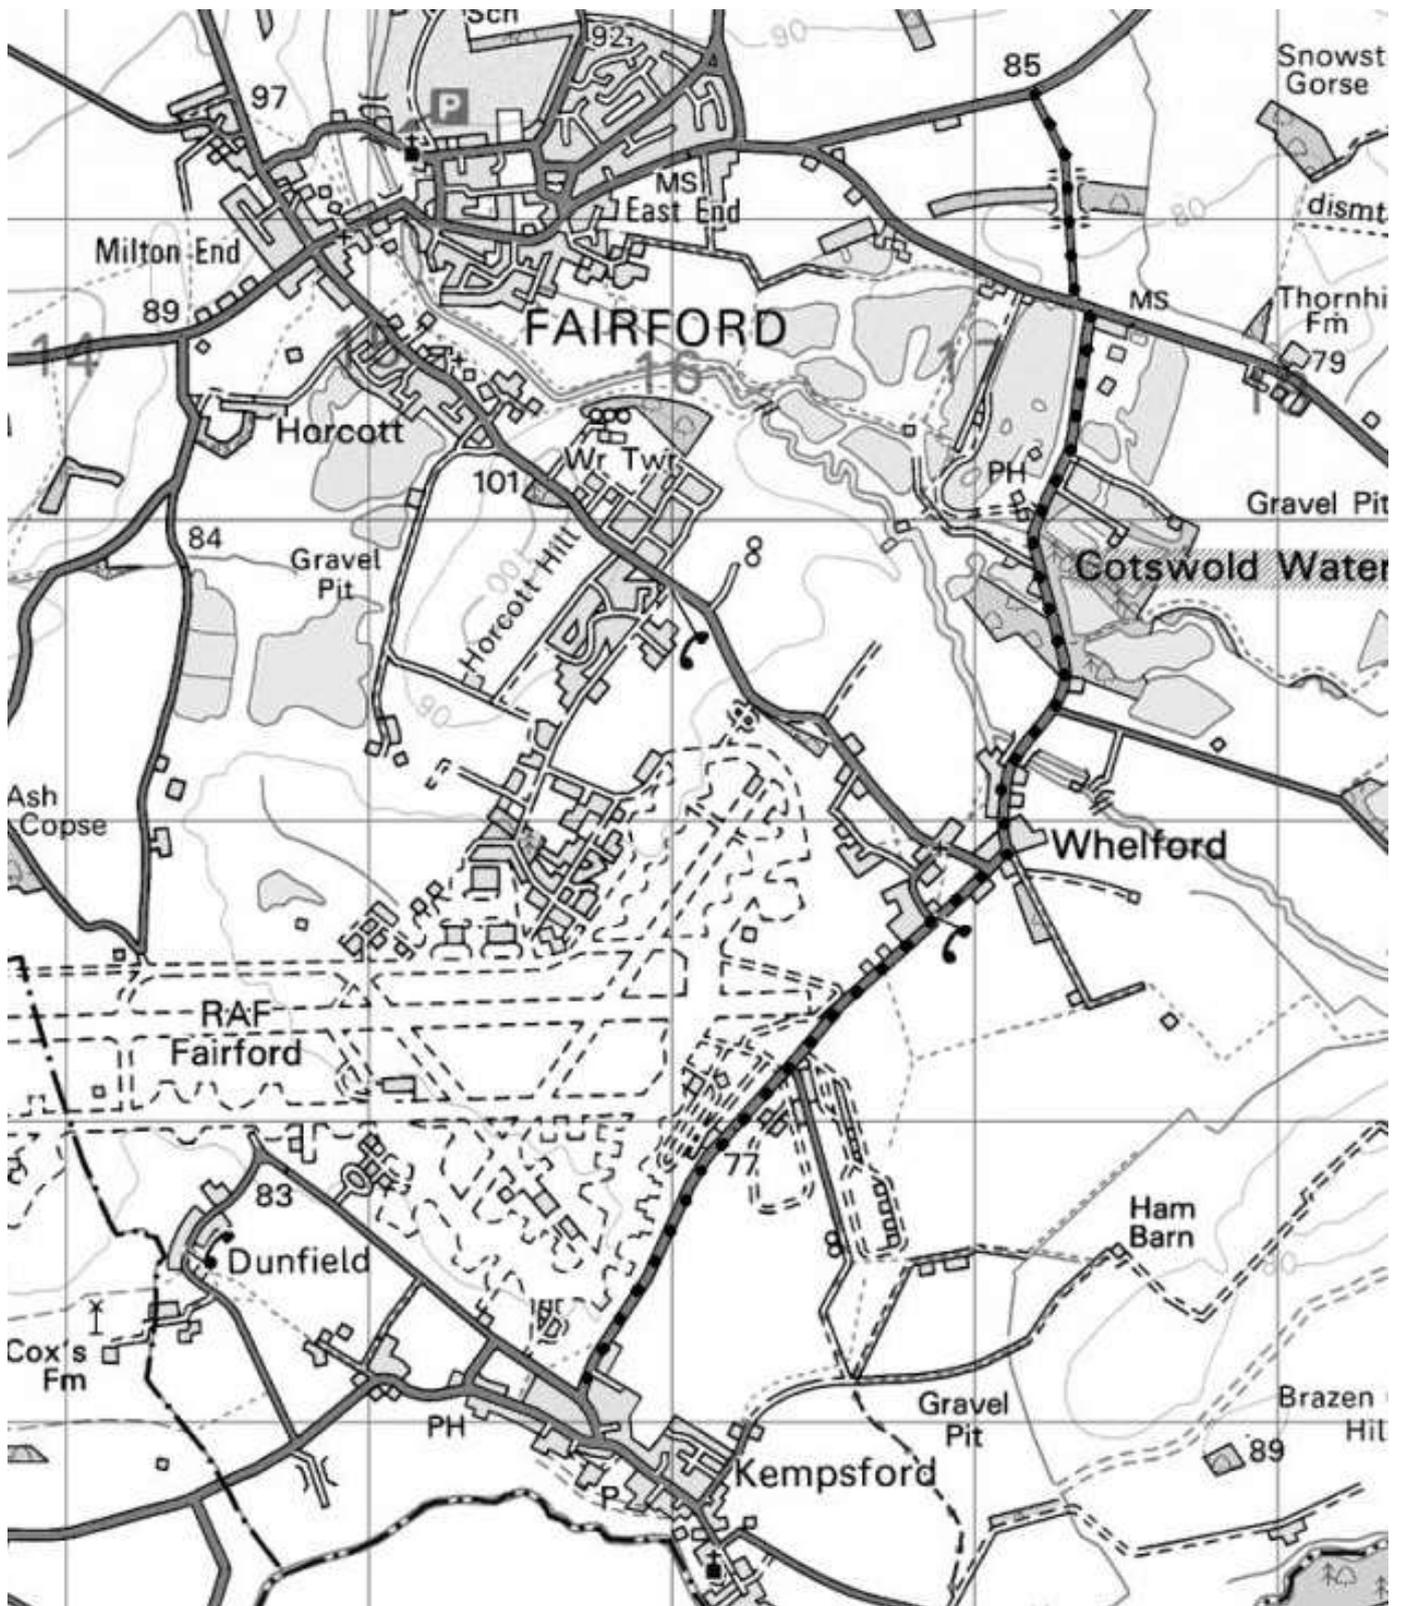

Please note; all other one-way systems remain the same as in 2015, details of which are contained in your local Residents' Newsletter which will be available, via the parish council, in June.

In recognition of the impact these changes to our traffic management system could have on your movements during RIAT, we have made a modest donation of £500 to Kempford Parish Council to help fund a resource that will benefit the parish.

If you wish to discuss these arrangements in more detail prior to Monday, July 4, please contact Richard Arquati on 01285 713300 ext 5361 or email richard.arquati@rafcte.com. However, if an issue arises over the RIAT period itself (between Monday July 4 and Monday, July 11) we would ask that you contact our Community Helpline on 01285 713000 in order to work with you to resolve any issues you may have.

Please be assured the Air Tattoo works closely with your parish council throughout the year to ensure that we minimize the impact of our event on you, the residents, and we remain hugely grateful for your support and forbearance as we plan our event each year.

Thank you

PRESS RELEASE

Cross-county unitary proposal withdrawn

Release date: 20 May 2016

The proposal to explore a cross county Unitary Council, based upon the existing boundaries of Cotswold and West Oxfordshire District Councils, has been withdrawn.

Following discussions earlier in the year with senior government ministers and advisors, Cotswold DC was encouraged to fully explore a Unitary Council option which built on the innovative and successful joint working arrangements between the two Councils. The proposal was seen as an opportunity to deliver an even better deal for Cotswold residents.

The proposal attracted considerable interest from both the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State, given that it sought to remove the barriers of hitherto fixed organisational boundaries and offered new approaches of working with other public sector bodies on strategic issues. Although the proposition was recognised as “complex”, the message from government was that “anything was possible”.

In acknowledging the concerns expressed by a number of public sector organisations to the proposal, as well as current legislation which precludes two police force areas spanning one council area, the Council asked PriceWaterhouseCooper (PWC), who had been commissioned to undertake a detailed independent analysis of all the options, to undertake an early evaluation of the concept - to provide clarification and also avoid unnecessary public expenditure if the proposal was considered not feasible.

PWC have now provided the Council with informal feedback which confirmed that the proposal would require changes to primary legislation and, as a result, could only be pursued within an early timeframe if it had widespread support.

The benefits of the proposal have been acknowledged. However, we accept that significant support from other public sector organisations and key stakeholders within Gloucestershire is extremely unlikely at this time; and we would also not wish to delay any proposals coming forward within Oxfordshire.

Councillor Lynden Stowe said “We are very frustrated that current legislation has not yet caught up with some of the most innovative joint working arrangements in the country. This is not the first time (nor will it be the last) where outdated and inflexible legislation is a barrier to public benefit. It is also disappointing that local public sector organisations threatened by such changes have been quick to dismiss proposals that they do not fully understand, to preserve a system that does not deliver for the benefit of local residents.

“The Council’s consistent approach has been to seek to do what is best for our residents, and the unitary proposal was a natural progression from our joint working initiatives. However, in all that we have done, we have sought to remain a valued partner within the Gloucestershire public sector area. This will not change. However, although our proposals have been seen as innovative, we are some way from achieving the support we need within Gloucestershire. As a result, we have therefore reluctantly decided to withdraw the proposal, which will clear the way for an Oxfordshire-only solution to be submitted to government in the Autumn. We have decided to announce this decision now to avoid further speculation and prevent further expenditure by public sector partners.

“We will continue to work collaboratively within Leadership Gloucestershire to produce an ambitious devolution deal, for the benefit of Gloucestershire residents and businesses. As part of this, we will continue to seek the most effective governance and delivery arrangements to join up the public sector in Gloucestershire.”

Cotswold and West Oxfordshire District Councils have confirmed that, regardless of any future changes within Oxfordshire, joint working - through the 2020 Partnership – will continue to be developed and expanded as it is considered critical in supporting good and sustainable council services, whatever its form or geographical boundaries.

Clerk for the Weymouth Trust - Sally Scarth (School administrator from 1994 – 2004) would like to hand over the role of clerk to the Weymouth Trust after voluntarily doing the job for the last 20 years.

The role is not time consuming or difficult and can be taken on by a parent, member of staff or even a member of the village. The trust was founded in 1709 and among the first trustees were John Faulkner, William Battersby and William Arkell (hence the name of the school's houses). There are only three short meetings during the year where Minutes need to be taken. The trust receives a small income which finances the annual leavers' gifts and special awards at the end of the summer term.

If you are interested in helping the school out in this way or would like more information about the role please contact Sally by email: sally@as-scarth.freeseve.co.uk or Carolyn Sleight at the school office: admin@kempsford.gloucs.sch.uk.

Record Result at Lions Annual Charity Auction.

President Geoff Bull and members of Lechlade & District Lions Club wish to thank all those who purchased items at the Lions Annual Charity Auction on 16th April.

The list of collections on the Friday was longer than ever and we are very grateful for the good quality items donated. Increased publicity for the event and good fortune with the weather contributed to the turnout on the day.

20% more bidders registered than normal indicating that the result would be promising, as was the fact that the Book Sale in the Pavilion was enhanced with children's toys and games.

There were 320 lots for Auctioneer Joe Trinder to sell which realised just over £3,500. With takings from the Book Sale and the Coffee Shop included, the overall sum raised was approximately £4,000, which will go towards funding our Welfare Programme during the new Lionistic year, commencing July 2016.

KEMPSFORD CANAL RESTORATION GROUP

It is proposed that the above group is formed. Working in close cooperation with the Cotswold Canals Trust. The aim is to open up as much of the Thames and Severn Canal that passes through our parish and surrounding areas. In the short term to provide additional footpaths and in the longer term full canal restoration.

For the last two years regular work parties have carried out clearance work at Oatlands Bridge, Kempsford Manor and latterly at Stubbs Cottage. If you would like to join this group, we are meeting at the church every Thursday evening from 5:00 pm and undertaking clearance of the canal bed at Stubbs cottage (last property on the left as you leave the village towards Hannington). We then adjourn to The George for well deserved refreshments.

Equipment is provided but feel free to bring your own saws, loppers etc. It is suggested that you wear stout gloves and footwear.

If you require any further information please give me a call on 01285 810810.
Doug Moore.

The A417 Missing Link

From Gloucestershire County Council and Gloucestershire Local Enterprise Partnership

I wanted to write to update you with some excellent news on the A417 Missing Link. Earlier this week, Highways England announced that, thanks to £1m in funding from Gloucestershire County Council, the project will move ahead to phase one. This means that the project is on track to meet the commitment from the Secretary of State for Transport, which would see works begin on site by 2020.

Highways England will begin looking closely at options, including working up detailed plans, costs and a feasibility study, as well as looking at ecological issues and seeking the views of local residents.

The 5km stretch of the A417 known as the 'Missing Link' is the only single carriageway along the 50km of the A417 running between the M4 and M5. Gloucestershire County Council has campaigned for the road to be improved for over 20 years and believes that the A417 loop is the best solution, with nearly 7,000 people and businesses pledging their support online. However we also understand Highways England needs to look carefully at all options.

The study will begin this year, collecting traffic data as well as geotechnical and wildlife habitat surveys. Local residents, businesses and the many commuters affected by issues along the existing stretch of single carriageway will also get the chance to have their say.

The missing link causes accidents, pollution and traffic chaos. Sorting it out is a key transport and economic priority for Gloucestershire and this work will be critical in developing the scheme sufficiently enough to start construction in the next roads investment period.

The loop option would enable multiple lanes of traffic to flow through this congestion spot aiding travel in this area and making it safer for road users. You can find out more about the A417 loop at a417missinglink.co.uk.

My council intends to keep campaigning hard for this vital improvement - I hope you will give us your help and support going forward.

Best wishes,

Councillor Mark Hawthorne MBE
Leader, Gloucestershire County Council
