Dear Friends and Neighbours

The summer wedding season is coming to an end. It is always a privilege and pleasure to be able to conduct the marriages of couples and share the joy of the day with family and friends.

I always remind couples that I am not marrying them - they are marrying each other - I am simply conducting the service! I also make the point that during the wedding service they are making promises to each other – not to me or to God – but to each other.

Getting married is a big deal and I think it is really important that two people make vows publicly before their families and friends. One of the new innovations in the Marriage service, which I really like, is when the vicar asks the congregation whether they will support and uphold the couple “in their married life, now and in the years to come” and the reply is (usually!) a resounding ‘We will!’

One of the statements that is made during the service is that the man and woman intend to ‘be faithful’ to the other ‘as long as you both shall live’. Being faithful is a tremendous gift we can give someone. It is living out: trust, fidelity, loyalty, love, self-sacrifice, respect and honour.

Of course, its easy to think that these virtues are under-valued in our western secular culture – the popular press and some TV shows seem to pour scorn on them and have an ‘its OK to do (nearly) anything with anyone’ philosophy. However, having recently watched a few episodes of the Jeremy Kyle show, it seems these apparently old-fashioned virtues are much more important to real people in real life than we sometimes think.

When the late Mr and Mrs Henry Ford celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, a reporter asked them, ‘To what do you tribute your 50 years of successful life?’ ‘The formula,’ said Ford, ‘is the same formula I have always used in making cars – just stick to one model.’

CWMAJM	Extension of sand and gravel extraction operations including the retention of all existing site administration, processing and access facilities, with restoration of the extension and existing site to agriculture and species rich grassland using imported inert materials to recreate the original land form.	deadline
		14th Sept
		2015

For further information, please visit www.gloucestershire.gov.uk

Advance Notice

A new application is expected to be open to consultation shortly for the following proposal at the Old Kempford Quarry —

To extract 17,000 tonnes of sand and gravel; to import inert material to create a standoff between the unclassified highway that runs through the quarry site and the adjacent lake; and to restore the lake for use as an ecologically based agricultural reservoir. Provide site compound with site office, weighbridge and wheel cleaner

Details will be posted on the Parish Council website when available.

Parish Council News

Whelford Flood Alleviation Works

The flood alleviation scheme works have now been completed at Whelford. These have been carried out with grant funding provided to residents whose properties flooded in Winter 2013/14, matched funded by Gloucestershire County Council and kind landowner permission.

Works include:

- A new culvert under the road by Great Farm, Whelford
- A new culvert under the Kempsford Road by the telephone box
- Piped section across the landing light field
- An open ditch along the field boundary from the landing light field to Starveall Lane ditch
- Improvement works to Starveall Lane ditch and culverts

Church Fete

Representatives from the Parish Council will be attending the Church Fete.

A 'scribble board' will be available for comments in preparation of updating the Parish Plan.

Please come along and share your views.

Dog Fouling

The Parish Council receive regular complaints regarding dog fouling. Please see comments below from a resident of Kempsford -

Please remember the high street paths are for walking on ... please be responsible in picking your dog's mess up.

It's certainly not nice to throw my child's shoes away due to owners laziness in not being a responsible dog owner.

Summary Minutes of the Manor Farm Quarry, Kempsford Liaison Group Meeting Held on 22nd June 2015 at Whelford Village Hall

Matters Arising and Planning Application for the Extension of the Quarry

It was noted that Aggregate Industries hydrological consultants - BCL had attended the local flood meeting in February. Also BCL had recently provided a technical note to the County Council providing an example of an operational sand and gravel pit that had received inert infill, and where below ground drainage had been implemented.

GCC Planning Officer advised that the Council's consultants – Atkins had been asked to provide any examples of this type of drainage however none had been put forward.

District and Parish Councillors commented that this creates an uncertain position as the Council have not been given a named example of where such drainage has been installed and is proven to be robust. The Parish Council needs assurances on the long term effectiveness of a tried and tested drainage solution and enforcement, given that highway drains can get blocked very easily, also French Drains in fields don't always work effectively. It is considered essential that the development is broken into phases and acknowledged that the Company would be working in smaller cells.

The vulnerability of the Dudgrove Stream needs to be taken into account in any management plan in term of monitoring and maintenance. Aggregate Industries planning consultant – Heaton Planning, confirmed this aspect would be included in the management plan.

Heaton Planning advised that confidence in the technical experts consultation responses must be given considerable weight as the Company's proposals have withstood scrutiny. It is proposed to implement trigger levels which would be picked up by comprehensive monitoring during all stages of the development. BCL have put forward a live example of where such drainage was being implemented, as referred to in BCL's technical note dated 06/05/2015 – referred to as the 'Analogue Site', a sand and gravel quarry in the Thames catchment area

GCC's Planning Officer advised that a comprehensive programme of monitoring and reporting was proposed and this would be an integral part of any S106 legal agreement. The application had been deferred from the May planning committee and was now on the agenda for the 30th July committee. A members site visit had taken place on the 10th May so there is no need for a further visit to the quarry. The committee report will be updated to take account of the latest consultation. Confirmation was given that the Council's hydrology consultant had visited the quarry.

The Parish Council enquired whether there were any proposals in the planning extension for the Company to fund local highway improvements, particularly for one of the C124 junctions in Kempsford – 'Allotment Corner' where there was evidence of HGV's over-running the verge. An improvement scheme was identified in the local transport plan but no County Council funding was currently available. The Planning Officer advised that County Highways had not raised any issues with the proposed quarry extension and had not deemed it necessary to secure highways contributions from the applicant to mitigate against the development.

The Parish Council reported that the local drainage enhancement scheme in Whelford was progressing – a new culvert under the C124 was proposed with a new drain across the 'landing lights field' and improved drainage heading south east to intercept with the Dudgrove Stream. Works are expected to commence after the July/August harvest.

Aggregate Industries advised that the works to the wash out area on the Site 16 boundary would be undertaken by the Company in July with contractors lined up to commence the works on 28/07/2015.

Quarry Manager's Report

Operations and Sales had resumed at Manor Farm Quarry following the transfer of production/sales from Cleveland Farm Quarry in March.

The mobile processing plant had been brought over from Cleveland Farm Quarry, currently being fed from an as-dug stockpile. It was proposed to campaign a further 30Kt from the quarry over a 3-4 week period with the as-dug sand and gravel stockpiled adjacent to the processing plant.

The fixed processing plant would be dismantled and removed off site over the course of the next few months.

The Company's contractor will be on site shortly to trim the vegetation along the route of the public footpath.

Someone was removing quarry signs from the perimeter fencing and throwing them into the dig area.

Liaison with Members of the Public

The Parish Council had recently contacted the Company regarding the footbridge over the Dudgrove Stream and it was noted that the Company had undertaken some repairs – a couple of loose boards has been secured.

The build-up of gravel in the Dudgrove Stream at the location of the quarry discharge pipe had been removed. The Company is proposing to place some large stones, flush with the stream bed at this location to mitigate any further occurrences. Liaison with the local EA officer would be required on this matter as the Dudgrove Stream is classified as a controlled water course.

Some vegetation had been cleared from the Dudgrove Stream however it was agreed that the Company would arrange for another assessment to be undertaken.

No complaints have been received by the County Council since the last meeting.

7. Any Other Business

RAF Fairford's Community Relations Officer reported that the airbase had commenced with works to the Dudgrove Stream within the MoD's land ownership, Phase 1 being the removal of vegetation along the stream course with phased de-silting of the stream to take place.

The airbase had seen an increased level of activity over recent months and this was anticipated to continue. It was noted that USAF had announced (in January 2015) of its intention to pull out of RAF Mildenhall in Suffolk.

The birdstrike management contract was continuing.

Aggregate Industries advised that a bird hazard management plan is being drafted, as this would be a requirement of the legal planning agreement should planning be approved for the quarry extension

A report of deer in Site 16 will be raised at the airbase.

Your local police service is changing

Gloucestershire Constabulary puts the public at the heart of everything we do.

To make sure you get the best possible service from us, we have reviewed how we work, where we work and when we work.

Following this review we have made some changes that we will start to bring in over the second half of 2015.

We believe these changes will allow us to provide a quality service to everyone in Gloucestershire even though we receive less money to fund our service than before.

There will still be six policing areas in the county based around the city of Gloucester; the towns of Cheltenham, Tewkesbury and Stroud; the Forest of Dean and the Cotswolds.

Constables and Police Community Support Officers (PCSOs) will continue to work in each area but a key change will be that we will now police the county as 'one team'. This means we will deploy our officers and PCSOs at the times, and in the places, where they are needed most. We will make this assessment not just by responding to daily demand but also by assessing on a regular basis up-to-date intelligence to pinpoint where harm and vulnerability are greatest.

We have changed as well how we work so no matter where they are based our personnel will work in the same way and at the same times in all parts of the county.

These changes will make us more flexible and resilient, giving you a better service when your community needs us most.

We will keep open police stations in all six police areas from where we will deploy officers and PCSOs. You will be able to use these buildings to report a crime to us face-to-face. We know however that many people have busy lives and want to be able to contact us by phone and on the internet. To help make things easier we have changed our website, completely redesigning it. You can now report a crime online; use the site to get practical advice on a range of issues and also use it to find out more about the police service in your part of

Gloucestershire. Our web address is: www.gloucestershire.police.uk

We will be equipping our officers and PCSOs with new mobile phones so you can contact them directly when they are on the beat. The phones are so advanced they will allow our staff to complete most of their 'paperwork' online without having to return to a police station. This means you will see more officers and PCSOs using their mobile phones in public places. Please feel free to approach them.

You will know who they are because another change we have made (in common with many police forces in England) is to have an officer's or PCSO's name displayed on their uniform. And, to enhance our professional appearance even more, we have re-introduced the traditional white shirt and black tie for police officers that are not deployed on operational duties.

In addition to these changes you can, of course, still call us at anytime of the day or night on the 101 non-emergency telephone number or by dialling 999 if an immediate police presence is needed. This is something you can depend on in every part of Gloucestershire and it is a professional service we are proud to deliver

UPDATE September 2015

Kempford Whelford

Dudgrove Dunsfield

BT will have completed their roll out of Fastershire Phase One by the end of 2015.

Within our area, that will mean that Kempford will be served by BT providing Fast Broadband links at up to 50MB connection speed through our local exchange. Although the most recent upgrade covering the High Street, Swynford Close and maybe others has not been well advertised, these links seem to be available across the village. Go to:

<http://www.fastershire.com/>

and enter you telephone number to the top right to check.

But what about the rest of the Parish?

Phase Two of Fastershire has been awarded to Gigaclear. They will provide Fibre connections to houses not yet connected by BT by the end of 2017. This will provide for connection speeds of up to 1000MB!

If the check for a BT connection indicates you are not connected, take a look at:

<http://www.fastershire.com/where-when/phase-two-the-rollout>

and make sure your home or business is on the list. Although it seems to include all of Whelford, Dudgrove and Dunfield, it is important that Fastershire are told of any errors. If your postcode is included but your property is not on the list, or if your neighbours are included but you aren't, then Fastershire would like to hear from you on:

info@fastershire.com

Please provide them with your full address details.

DOG INCIDENTS

After recent reports regarding dog incidents here is a helpful reminder of your responsibilities when out with a dog.

As a dog owner we want the best for our pets. We want to be able to take them out for a walk and let them run free and play with other dogs. However sometimes we forget that even though we trust our own dog and think we know it well enough to know how it will react to other dogs, or situations that we may come across while we are out walking, we all sometimes forget that really unpredictable things can happen when dealing with animals.

It's easy to think that everyone likes dogs but we need to remember that there are a number of people out there who have been bitten by a dog some time in their past or for one reason or another are just simply scared of dogs (there is a recognised irrational fear of dogs known as Cynophobia). If you are out walking your dog and you have it off the lead then you still need to be in control of it and when we have our dogs off their leads we lack control over them. If you see another dog approaching (that is either on or off a lead) you should call your dog back to yourself and attach your lead and then allow the two dogs to meet in a controlled manner. If they are then showing signs of aggression towards each other you have all the control. Small growls can very quickly turn into a more serious altercation and can lead to one or both of the dogs sustaining injuries.

Another reason to ensure that your dog knows the "come" command is so that you have control if for example a squirrel or rabbit runs by and the dog decides to take chase. This could end up in your dog running out onto a nearby road and getting into what we call RTC (Road Traffic Collision) Injuries from cats and dogs being hit by a car, these can be very serious and can lead to a lengthy and expensive vet bill.

It is also a little known fact that if you are out in public with your dog it is a legal requirement for them to have a visible identification. So even if you have your dog micro-chipped then you also need to have a collar with an identification tag visible on your dog.

If we take a little time to think about how our dog's behaviour might affect others then we will all find our time out and about walking our dogs much safer and enjoyable.

A tasty way to celebrate Armed Forces Day

Children from Kempford Church of England Primary School celebrated this year's Armed Forces Day with a fun and tasty cookery day. The menu was based on the three Armed Forces, namely Navy Fish Pie, the Army's Cream Beef SOS and Air Force One Chicken Piccante.

The RAF Brize Norton Community Support Team were approached by the Friends of Kempford School about their themed day and agreed to sponsor the cost of the ingredients needed. Officers from the RAF Community Support Team came along to see the cooking in progress and observed budding potential chefs from Year 5 preparing the chicken dish based on an actual recipe served on the U.S. Presidential airplane, Air Force One. The airplane was based at RAF Fairford last year during the American president's visit.

Approximately one third of the school's pupils are children from families based at RAF Brize Norton and living at RAF Fairford. The school's Headteacher, Richard Mendum, was keen to unite the school with a themed cookery day as part of the School's week-long celebration of the work of the Armed Forces. Local Gloucestershire business, The Kitchen Club, stepped up to the challenge to devise the recipes and lead the cookery sessions. It was a huge success with all children preparing a dish that they were able to take home to their families at the end of the day. "I want to do it all over again", said Emma, aged 6. "It was really fun because I hadn't done anything like it before", added Lily, aged 8. Louise Jeffrey, mother of Callum and Sam aged 5 and 8 was delighted, "Both my boys loved it and ate their food for dinner so one less job for me today".
